

For therapists, evaluators, pediatricians, co-ops, and schools

Referring a family to Janessa Prince

Literacy and learning support in Palm Beach County · In person and online

Who I help

K-8 students who struggle with reading, writing, spelling, or organization, including children with dyslexia, ADHD, autism, or language impairments. Homeschool and English language learner families too.

Services

- Reading and writing tutoring
- Dyslexia tutoring (structured literacy)
- Executive function tutoring
- Homeschool learning support
- English language learners

Educational instruction only. Not therapy, diagnosis, or treatment.

Credentials

- Florida-certified teacher
- Master's in literacy
- Orton-Gillingham trained
- ESOL endorsed
- Approved Step Up For Students provider

How Step Up direct pay works

1. The family has a Unique Abilities (FES-UA) or PEP account in the Education Market Assistant (EMA).
2. They choose me in EMA and reserve funds.
3. Step Up pays me after each session. No money out of pocket.

How to refer

1. With the family's permission, send their first name and best contact at janessaprince.com/partners.
2. I contact them within one school day and offer a free 15-minute fit call.
3. With consent, I let you know if we start working together.

janessaprince.com/partners

(305) 804-0622

hello@janessaprince.com

Janessa Prince Reading Tutoring is an independent tutor: an approved Step Up For Students provider who also works with AAA Scholarship Foundation families. This site is not affiliated with or endorsed by Step Up For Students or AAA Scholarship Foundation. Always confirm program rules in the official handbooks.